

DAVID ROCHEFORT

David A. Rochefort is Arts & Sciences Distinguished Professor of Political Science at Northeastern University. He has published widely on such topics as health care reform, mental health care, and other social welfare topics. Since 2002, he has worked with his students on a variety of applied social research projects that focus on issues of concern in Boston, Massachusetts, and the region, developing these projects in collaboration with local community groups and agencies. Professor Rochefort is currently a participant in the national CBR Networking Initiative and has been a faculty member of the Martha's Vineyard Summer Institute on Experiential Education.